Facts of complaint

Complainant advised that captioned subject [redacted] apparently violated a court order issued by complainant on April 25, 1997 as part of civil case Religious Technology Center (RTC) vs. [redacted] case number: 96-2007 RMW EAI. [redacted] has declared bankruptcy and by doing so has avoided any civil sanction on this matter. Alleged violation involves the posting of RTC telephone record information on the Internet by an associate of [redacted] obtained the information from Pacific Bell via mail using a civil subpoena issued in another judicial district. Neither the court or the RTC were notified of the subpoena. When the RTC became aware of the request they motioned the court and the complainant obtained a declaration from [redacted] that he would not disclose the records and abide by the court's ruling. The Complainant ruled that [redacted] should return the records to the RTC and he complied. The telephone information posted on the Internet reportedly (based upon information provided to the court by RTC attorney [redacted] (408) 292-7600) contains unique data (misdialed #'s) that is specifically linked to the material whose dissemination was prohibited by Complainant's court order. The computer crime squad has performed preliminary Internet investigative inquiries strongly linking [redacted] to [redacted] the apparent disseminator of the telephone information on the Internet.

Dear Agent [redacted]

Regarding our telephone conversation this morning, of course I will cooperate in every way with a Bureau investigation. As you may know I live more than 250 miles away from San Jose and my family just emerged from Chapter 7 Bankruptcy. So we do not have the resources to conveniently meet with you at your office.

If you wish to send someone to interview me about whatever false allegations the Church of Scientology (who is undoubtedly behind such a smear campaign) has made, please let me know so we can arrange a mutually convenient time to talk.

Please bring with you any alleged documents that you claim are mine so I can comment on them. As I told you on the phone, I would never break the law nor disobey a judge's order. If I felt that a judge's order was incorrect or unlawful I still would not break it, but I would seek relief from the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals in San Francisco.

I have been in civil litigation with the so-called Church of Scientology for over two years now (C 96-20207 N.D.C.) and the cult has been aware since last Thursday that I am currently asking the Honorable Ronald M. Whyte of the United States District Court, San Jose to restrain them from Obstruction of Justice and tampering with my witnesses for a civil trial now scheduled for March 30, 1998. I believe the cult - who is well-known for their declarations describing their unlawful harassment of my witnesses.

[redacted] remembered seeing the telephone numbers posted on the Internet. [redacted] thought that [redacted] might have posted those telephone numbers on the Internet, however, he was not sure. [redacted] then stated that he believed the numbers were posted by [redacted] believed that [redacted] knew [redacted] since both of them were involved in a civil lawsuit with the Scientology Church, which they described as a cult. [redacted] theorized that [redacted] may or may not have gotten the numbers from [redacted] thought that [redacted] could have gotten the numbers through publicly available information.

[redacted] was advised that the agent of record had spoken to [redacted] briefly earlier that morning, however, [redacted] had hung up on the agent. Since it appeared that [redacted] had used [redacted] as an intermediary to contact the FBI on [redacted] behalf, [redacted] was advised that the FBI wanted to talk with [redacted] regarding the postings on the Internet of those telephone numbers. [redacted] was also advised that if [redacted] had caused those numbers to be posted on the Internet, that was a direct violation of U.S. Magistrate Judge Infante's order. Judge Infante had ordered [redacted] to surrender those telephone numbers to him. At the present time, the government was not interested in prosecuting [redacted] for those postings, however, such postings must cease or [redacted] will face legal difficulties, for disobeying the judge's decree.

3. Wogs at Cause by Keith Henson [Car chases and other modern courtroom phenomena--adapted from the version published in Biased Journalism]

[Glossary notes: "Wog" is a derogatory term scientologists use for non scientologists. The next step up (when you start taking their expensive "courses" i.e., brainwashing) is "raw meat." Scientology claims, but never delivers, to release your "Operating thetan" powers--where you are supposed to obtain "spiritual power" over MEST, i.e., matter, energy, space and time, or in scientology's arcane jargon, you are supposed to be "at cause" over MEST. Scientologist are known as "clams" on the net because Hubbard claimed (in _History of Man_, also known as _What to Audit_) that humans are descended from clams, not to mention sloths, and the fraudulent Piltdown man.]

Background: Scientology started duking it out with the Internet free speech activists in January of 1995 when their lawyer Helena Kobrin issued an rmgroup to destroy a small but active usenet news group, alt.religion.scientology. a.r.s was quickly restored on the machines where the rmgroup had taken effect and rapidly increased in popularity till it was one of the most read groups on the net.

Shortly thereafter, "Religious Technology Center" (a scientology front) sued a critical former "minister" of scientology, Dennis Erlich, Tom Klemesrud (owner of Dennis's ISP, support.com) and Netcom, which provided support.com with connection to the Internet. Dennis was raided under a civil search warrant and Tom was subjected to a bizarre "blood attack" by a woman who claimed her hemorrhoids were the source of blood splattered five feet up on Tom's walls.

Over a year later RTC sued a well known internet personality Grady Ward who had been taunting them on a.r.s. The premise for the suit was that he was the elusive "SCAMIZDAT" who had been posting their trade secret/copyrighted comic book "scriptures" on the Internet. No evidence that I know about has turned up to support this idea. Of course, chained anonymous remailers are a bit hard to trace no matter who or what group was doing this.

My involvement came about when I took a look at some of this material and wrote a letter to the Federal Judge in Grady's case asking if he really intended to allow the use of copyright and trade secret laws to keep criminal instruction manuals (about the illegal practice of quack medicine with their "emeters") from public view. When no response was forthcoming from the Judge, I posted the letter, which included as an example a document, NOTs 34, THE SEQUENCE FOR HANDLING A PHYSICAL CONDITION. Scientology (RTC) responded by suing me.

Exhibit 6

In the mean time, a fatal example of scientology's "medical treatment" has come to light, the Lisa McPherson case. Lisa died of dehydration while in the hands of Scientology, and there are a number of web sites with all the gruesome details, including pictures of her hands, covered with what the medical examiner called cockroach bites. (See <http://www.primenet.com/~cultxpt/lisa.htm>)

Lisa McPherson's story has been on three US TV news shows (Inside Edition twice) and was featured on a German show. A rumor has it that Lisa Marie Presley is paying for the civil and criminal defenses of the cult over this incident.

Lisa Marie nearly died recently. It is alleged to be because she was subjected to one of scientology's bizarre processes. Her former husband Michael Jackson collapsed after the same "treatment," which is supposed to "sweat out" toxins and drugs.

Back to the lawsuit filed against me. After a vast amount of legal wrangling, the judges in the cases permitted the deposition of the head of Scientology to be taken in the three cases.

Part four of the May 19-21 saga starts when Grady and I are leaving the deposition of David Miscavige (taken in Palm Springs, California).

[Part one is the trip to Southern California, and the "bomb threat at an airport" which scientology used to prevent lawyers being present, part two is my picketing the cult compound at Gold Base near Hemet, California. Part three is the deposition itself.]

The hired (and armed) bodyguard for David Miscavige walked us down to the lobby desk where we picked up our cameras and then out to our car. He listened with considerable interest to the tale of Lisa McPherson and how scientology tangled with the net and how Grady and I got mixed up in this circus.

We headed off to the north, realized we had overshot the road to the Palm Springs airport and turned back. Since Grady's flight was not for a few hours, and by this time it was about 1 pm, we stopped at a deli/restaurant to have one last meal at the cult's expense.

We hadn't been in there 5 minutes when Tom Hogan [San Jose lawyer for the cult] showed up to warn us not to post anything of substance (hah! what substance?) from the deposition. Before Hogan showed, we could ignore the scientology operatives who had been assigned to tail us. We found out later they were PIs (private investigators)--I guess they decided that they needed professionals after they had lost us twice the day before when we were playing with them, but trying not to lose them.

As we were driving away after lunch, we first saw only one tail, two younger dudes in a late model car. I pulled a couple of U turns and then pulled over to the curb. Grady jumped out and ran back to get a picture. I nearly spilt my sides laughing as they frantically backed up around a corner to get away from Grady. Wogs at Cause are immune to cameras, but cameras cause scientologists, certain scumbag lawyers, and PIs to scurry like vampires facing a cross.

After a few go arounds in some parking lots, we went south and pulled in to a cul de sac so we could get some better pictures as they went by. Then we went around the south edge of the airport and off to the west, then south into an industrial park. We were playing loop the loop through the parking lots and around backs of the buildings when we noticed the second car with only an older guy in it. He waved us over and identified himself as a PI, and told us that the team was commissioned by the scientologists to follow us wherever we went, though he would not identify himself further. His license (his car lacked a front plate) was BAYBUMZ (California). I gave his and the other license number to the cops later, the license for the car the two younger guys were in can be seen in one of the photographs. Both were late models, one blue, the other purple/blue. Since I had the license plate numbers I didn't care what models.

After the encounter in the industrial park, we went a little further west, then south, back to the west, and finally north on a road which passed to the west of the airport.

I decided it would be a good idea to check the story, so we called on the cell phone and got directions for the Palm Springs Police Department. It was within a few blocks of the airport.

We stopped in front, went in, and Lieutenant McCabe of the Palm Springs police came out with us and went over to talk to the older dude who had stopped across the street from the station. In a few minutes he was convinced that our tails were indeed PIs. Lt. McCabe told us that PIs have what amounts to a "License to Stalk," but that as long as we were reasonably careful with the traffic laws, we were welcome to lose them.

This sounded like an interesting challenge to me, but Grady figured we had about run this episode into the ground, and in any case, he had only an hour before he needed to check in.

I dropped Grady at the Palm Springs airport about 2:30 and considered "what next" because it seemed to me there was more life in this adventure somewhere. I looped out of the airport, followed closely by my tails, drove by the Palm Springs Police Station and continued on south to Hwy 111, and then southeast about ten miles to the Embassy Suites--where we had stayed the previous night. I figured that was one of the few places which would take me seriously about there being three scientology operatives on my tail, since they knew of the activities of the previous night.

The Pls stayed right with me, one ahead, and one behind. The one behind ran red lights so they would always have two cars close to mine. I stopped at three service stations before I found one who would jack up the car and take a look under it for a locator bug like Steve Fishman reported on his car some time ago. No luck. I was really hoping I could take one off and get the cult charged for it, but this must have been the economy tail. Incidentally, the owner of the second service station would not even consider looking under my car because of (I think unjustified) stark fear of Scientologists.

Next to the Embassy Suites is a Lucky's (giant grocery store) and row of shops. I pulled in there and picked up another disposable camera and some bottled water. Tossed the water in the car, unwrapped the camera and went behind the row of shops. Being careful with the camera, I jumped down a two meter retaining wall and went into the lobby of the hotel. (Actually the way I went down the wall was not one mighty leap, as I might have done in my youth, but dropping down holding onto the top of the wall.) You can see the wall in one of the webbed photographs. (www.best.com/~dkeith/pics)

A lot happened in the next two hours. I told the desk clerk what was up, being tailed by three scientology operatives. They knew about the previous evening, and insisted on calling the cops. One of the desk clerks offered to go get my car from the lot next door. So I gave him the key, after warning him the operatives would not be happy. They weren't. He came back somewhat bug eyed with this tale of being stopped by the Pls who insisted on knowing who he was and what he was doing with the car--thus providing the cops who came by later with a third party verification.

Both of the cops who showed up happened to be women. The first one, with the Riverside Sheriff's department (sorry I did not get either of their names), was only about 5 feet tall, but solid. I sure wouldn't want to tangle with her. The second, a somewhat thin blond woman, was with the Palm Desert Police. Excellent professional behavior from both of them, in what must have seemed a thoroughly nutty but potentially dangerous situation. Of course Palm Desert is a rich community, and you expect top grade policing.

I spent most of the time before the first cop showed up and some of it afterwards talking to the local newspaper and TV station. Both reporters I talked to were drooling over the chance to do a local "slow speed chase" on camera/photographs but it was too near deadline. Sigh, I even offered to lead the PIs through the TV station's parking lot so they could just poke a camera out a window. Well, the regular media loses again, and you get it hot on the net.

(A few weeks after this happened I was reading Scott Adams' new book, The Dilbert Future. Prediction 52, "In the future, everyone will be a news reporter," really hit home. Downsizing has left the traditional news sources with no resources to report the unexpected. If you happen to be wondering why news is so dull that a significant part of the population no longer keeps up with news at all, you now know.)

I mentioned to both the cops and the media that I was not thrilled at two hours on the road going back in the direction of LA while being tailed by scientology operatives--and related the Scarff affidavit where Scarff was told in scientology lawyer Moxon's office how he should run the president of the Cult Awareness Network, Cynthia Kisser, off the road and kill her. (Not that I really expected such of hired PIs. Killing citizens must be cause to lose a license; but you never can tell--and there is nothing which forbids PI licenses to scientologists.)

This went on to about 5:30 and it became clear that the media could not fit the story in--the days of "Stop the Presses" are long gone. It was also obvious that cops could do nothing. I had kind of hoped that the local laws in Palm Desert might be a little more restrictive on out of town PIs or maybe they could informally hang onto these dudes long enough for me to get a head start on them, but this seems to be beyond the rules. I presume they did locate the three and talk to them because they confirmed again to me that the three tailing me were PIs, and apparently the PIs told such a tale of a dangerous "Wog at Cause" that the first cop felt the need to pat me down. (At the stop where I had the car checked for bugs, I did advise the older one that he might want to read up on what a wild character he was following and he wrote down the title [Great Mambo Chicken and the Transhuman Condition] I gave him.)

ACTION!

The cops are not pleased by my speculation on how to shake the PIs by a high speed chase on the roads north of Palm Desert up to the freeway. Even if nobody gets hurt, the idea of all four of us being jailed for speeding doesn't appeal to me either. The exchange ratio of three fines/jail terms to one is definitely too low to be properly at cause. As I walk out the door with the car key in my hand, a very worried cop (the second one) wants to know what I am going to do. I tell her the truth, "I don't know," and leave.

Now, to understand what happens next, you need a picture of the layout of the Embassy Suites. It is on a chunk of land with a relatively narrow frontage on Hwy 111 and a very deep lot. Behind the Embassy Suites is an old palm grove about 300 meters deep and at least that wide. My car is facing toward the back of the hotel (the lobby is in the middle facing west). I figured I will drive around the back of the hotel since the car is pointed in that direction. Since I have a full tank, and the GEO gets excellent milage, perhaps I can run them out of gas on the mountain roads south and west of Palm Desert.

When I reach the end of the paved section at the back of the hotel there is no curb and a faint track where tractors had been in to plow under the weeds and fallen palm fronds. Seeing this, I make an instant decision. In a long ago and far away phase of my life I drove off road for thousands of miles. So, figuring the worst that could happen would be that I would get stuck, and at best they would get stuck, I drive out into the sand at all of 15 mph.

Fifty yards out into the palm grove, I realize the grove is surrounded on three sides by a 8-10 foot high concrete block wall. Hoping for a break in the far right corner behind some thick trees, I head that way. Alas, there is no opening anywhere in the back wall. So I veer away plowing through sand and over fallen palm fronds like a small boat in a choppy sea. If GMC needs a testimonial from a verrry satisfied customer about the handling characteristics of a GEO in deep sand, I'm their man.

Ah, did the media miss a golden opportunity! One, two, or three cars throwing up sand like giant demented blue lizards! I don't know if they followed me. I couldn't look back for fear of wrapping my lizard around one of the palms. The tape would be a treasure, especially if one of the PI's cars followed me into the deep sand and got stuck.

Dodging palms, bucking and rolling and not daring to stop because the car would get stuck, I make a huge U turn inside the wall through the sand and palm frond mix. If there was a locator bug stuck under the car it might have been scraped off. Near the end of the wall (which is perhaps 300 meters back from Hwy 111, the surface smooths out. As I go beyond the end of the wall I see a cul de sac with a sloping curb.

A fishtail turn behind the wall and I am back on pavement. There are some small office buildings ahead. I make a right, a left, go around the end of one of them and park under a sun shade next to some other cars. I jump out and hide inside a dumpster enclosure where I can watch my car. I am half expecting them to drive up with a directional antenna--no point in trying to shake them if there is a locator bug stuck under the car. Memories of the chase sequence from Eric Frank Russell's classic SF novel "Wasp" where the protagonist parks and lets the Secret Police go by are flashing in my head.

It is hot, I won't be able to stay here long. Less than 20 seconds go by, crouched down and looking out the crack between the gates, and what looks like the car with the two younger dudes goes blasting through the parking lot past right in front of me going way too fast. They pass within 15 feet of my car. It is clearly visible, palm fronds hanging out behind it, but since it is parked, they ignore it. After they pass, I peep out over the top of the enclosure. They stop at Cook, a main road, 50 meters beyond where I am watching them. I have vanished! They look wildly around for ten to fifteen seconds, and then tear off to the north. I don't see the car with the older guy in it, perhaps he followed me into the sand and got stuck.

Back to my car, pull out the palm fronds which are stuck around the tail pipe and follow them north on Cook, turning east at the next major intersection and then north through a housing development (hard to find, most Palm Desert housing in that end of town is in gated communities.)

Eventually I come out on a street I can find on my not-very- detailed map, go further east and north and find Interstate 10. The rest is an uneventful drive back to Ontario. When I go by Hwy 79, which leads back to Gold Base and Hemet, I am sorely tempted to make the side trip and picket them again. But, as much "at cause" over clams and clam PIs as this wog is, I remind myself that this is, after all, only a hobby and Real Life (tm) calls.

Either the fight with the Internet has really hurt scientology, or the cult was a lot smaller than we thought when the fight started.

Six or seven months ago the TV show Sightings called me to see if I would make and fly a UFO for them, something I was noted for in my misspent youth. Eventually we settled on a date and a place, north of Los Angeles, but within day trip range for the camera crew. I had been looking for excuses to visit that part of the state for some time. By a lucky accident, Sightings picked Saturday, September 13, auditor's day.

I didn't mention Sightings when I posted on the net after the last and impressive Toronto picket reports that I was tired of my comatose local clams and would go to LA that weekend to find some lively ones.

The adventure started on Friday. Judge Whyte must have put RTC vs Erlich early instead of his usual just before lunch. So I missed the hearing but met Darlene Bright (San Jose scn agent) coming out of the courthouse. She didn't look very happy and was kind of evasive about what had happened when I asked her so either Judge Whyte ruled against them, or the ruling was delayed. I mentioned to her that I would try to get in a short picket that morning since I was in San Jose. She was not amused. I had something else to do first, so I showed up at the San Jose org about an hour later, I guess that would have put it 11 to 11:30 am.

Other than it being in a place where there is little foot traffic, the San Jose org is nearly ideal to picket. The walk is shaded with trees, and it was a pleasant day, warm but with a nice breeze. The org building is about 90 feet on a side and two stories tall. It has parking on all four sides. There is a plowed-over lot to the east of the org and a drop-in place for the homeless on the west side. The back of the org is up against the 880 freeway close to First St.

Ted Mayett had asked for a count of parking spaces, so I walked back through the plowed area to get a count of the ones in back. There are between 95 and a hundred parking spaces, and 25 cars in the lot that day--counting one which has not moved in months.

After about half an hour Darlene came out and wearily took two pictures and wrote down what I had on the sign. For variety I was using an old sign which read on one side:

Scientology vs the Net

Scientology is a Scam and on the other:

What happened to Lisa McPherson?

To that I added:

Xenu? Xemu?

Which was it Ron?

After a peevish remark or two about bigotry, Darlene tried to pump me about how I was going to get to LA by expressing concern that my car would not make it. I told her tracking me was the private investigator's problem, not hers. She said that scientology's PIs would not come clear up to the Bay area to start tracking me. I reminded her that according to an affidavit filed in Federal court (Tom Hogan's false bomb threat in the airport) they did just that before the Miscavige deposition back in May.

MikeSmith3 had left scientology wide open in the last post where he quoted one of my memetics articles (where do they get these people?). Because it took a while to generate an appropriate reply, I was later than I liked getting out of town. If any PIs were tailing me, I never saw them, in spite of considerable looking.

Interstate 5 is a dreadfully dull trip, and even worse at night. The high point was a hamburger and a coke at McDonald's. I was into LA before midnight. Won't say where I stayed (except the bed was comfortable) because I might want to use it again. Heh, my scientology escort/counter marchers tried to weasel it out of me the next day by making noises about me sleeping in my car.

My Heaven's Gate/Scientology/Both UFO Cults! sign had "What happened to Odhran Fortune? on the other side. Figuring Lisa was better known, I put new paper over the Fortune side and scrawled:

Did "Standard Tech" Kill Lisa McPherson?

And in smaller letters:

Wogs at Cause $360K for a bridge? Knights of Xenu/Xemu.

None of this would have caused a stir in San Jose, but I was expecting more action out of the headquarters clams. I was not to be disappointed. With the sign and a 150 copies of Roland's Xemu flyers I started off for Cedars. Cedars is several blocks to the east of 101 on Sunset.

I would have been there earlier (breakfast was but a sweet roll) but the directions I had were not clear and I wound up in Beverly Hills. Doubling back, I arrived about 9:30. Leaving my sign in the car, I made a one pass around the building with a disposable camera. I might as well put descriptions in this text about the photos. [The photos are temporarily at <ftp://ftp.netcom.com/pub/hk/henson/cedars.pics/> and more permanently at the url above.]

The first one is the street sign on Sunset, "LRH Way," one of the few streets in the US named for a person who died as a fugitive from the law (at least from the IRS).

The area around the block-plus that scientology occupies is going through a transition from seedy slums to high rises. Kaiser (an old and very large Health Maintenance Organization) has a number of large buildings and parking structures to the west. Cedars itself was a hospital before scientology bought it. Just about every door in the building is the "main entrance" for some scientology front. Next time I will make a list.

I picked up an escort even without a sign. A scientology "chaplain" asked me who I was, and I told him I was scientology's worst nightmare (slight exaggeration). Photo 2 is the northern most door on the east side of the main building. The sign in Photo 3 is a little hard to make out. The escort wouldn't let me go on their property to photograph it, but way back in a service area the sign says "Sea Org Recruiting Office." Somehow it seemed appropriate. No rats I could see but I was too far back to check on the roaches.

Photo 4 of the main entrance to AOLa which is across LRH Way from Cedars. LRH Way is nicely done with red brick--be interesting to see how long it lasts. Brick streets break up quickly under heavy traffic and porous brick is nearly impossible to clean.

Photo 5 is the other LRH Way sign. I caught one of the security cameras in photo 6. This one is on the southeast corner of the main building.

After a single pass around the building, I got my sign out of my car. The content prompted an immediate complaint from the chaplain that I was causing chaos although he would not say what on the sign offended him. An enturbulated chaplain and I walked clockwise from the north side of the building around to the east side. There I picked up two more escorts. The two dudes in the photo 7 stayed with me most of the morning. Photo 8 is of their guy taking photos of me. This time they stayed well back and did not shove the camera in my face like the security guards did out at Hemet. The guy in the foreground is the "chaplain." 9 and 10 are closeups of the guys in 7. 11 is the "Auditor's Day" banner on the wall next to the main entrance. For being a major scientology holiday, they sure did not have much traffic of publics in or out--which is why I think the Internet has hurt them a lot more than we thought. I don't think I saw more than a hundred and fifty clams the entire time I was there.

After a walk around the whole block and two or three passes back and forth along the west side of the building (which seemed to have the most activity) a scientologist maybe in his 20s in a dark suit calmly walked straight up in front to me, grabbed my sign stick right under the cardboard and started spraying my sign with a can of red paint. To put it mildly I was startled. Fortunately, the stick on that sign is a short pool cue that was not about to break and I was able to get both hands on it while the attacker only had one. The attacker was a little taller than I am but lighter. I dragged him still spraying out onto the brick roadway (not wishing to get onto Cedars property during the incident) and kind of scraped him off on a parked car.

Once I broke his grip on the sign, he immediately ran away, going inside Cedars while I fumbled for my camera but failed to get a photo. The chaplain and my escorts did not seem surprised, and were clearly disappointed that the red paint did not do much of a job obscuring the words.

About 15 minutes later a guy in a red shirt tried it again with black paint. I ended that try the same way but even faster. It is interesting to see which words they went after. Xenu I expected, but they seemed just as upset at Lisa's name and the dollar figure for the "bridge" Hubbard sold them.

I was more together this time and got photos 12 and 13 of the black paint guy running away and inside.

I didn't realize it at the time, but the big banner you can see in 13 was to keep people inside from seeing my sign. At one point later when I was going down to a market for some water, they marched that banner between me and Sunset. Of course, my pool cue sign stick let me hold my sign higher than the silly banner.

They picked a conflicting approach, at first not blocking my sign, but pointing me out with theirs which had big arrows and said "Criminal SP". Later they gave up and just did their best to block anyone from seeing my paint-spattered sign. The long stick I was using made this hard since I could get my sign up over theirs most of the time. There were a few honks and waves out on Sunset, but very non-scns travel LRH Way.

At this point (around ten thirty) Lisa Derrick came by. I got her to take photos 14, 15 and 16. I would like to know the name of the guy with the purple tie to the left of me in 15. He is a high up I think since he was the one later screaming in the white PI car. 15a is a blowup of his face. Photo 17 is a close up of the sprayed sign. After the altercations with paint, I commented that they were raising the ante, had they given thought to what that might release? I don't think they got it at all. But I sure would not be a bit surprised to see a lot more activity with Xen/mu and spray paint. Make it neat and literary though. There is a lot to be said for stencils.

Besides walking up and down on the east side of the building, I made one or two passes around the whole building, enturbulating the RPF slaves working on the grounds. It was really hot. I couldn't find the extra water I had stashed in the car, so Lisa offered to go pick up some from a store three blocks to the west of Cedars on Sunset. I walked slowly after her, giving out an occasional flyer and missed her at the store because she found a nearer place. The clams exhibited some really interesting disturbed behavior over Lisa and me missing contact, trying to goad me with the (untrue) claim that I had given money to Lisa and she had taken the dollar (shortly raised to five dollars) and run away from the picket in fear since there were only two of us. Of course, the clams had their noses rubbed in their stupidity when Lisa made it back.

On the way down to the store, my clam escort dropped off. When the three guys who were carrying the large banner got about two blocks from Cedars they started complaining about how silly it was for me to be picketing and them to be counter picketing that far from the org.

This may have implications for the December Clearwater picket. It is possible that a clam who starts feeling silly is on his way out. At the Clearwater picket last March, two scientologist followed me to a diner where I bought them lunch. I heard from one of them subsequently in email indicating that he had left scientology. Be interesting to see if any of the people who counter picketed me leave. If one of you happens to be reading this, I will not hold your actions and words against you. Scientology makes basically nice people into monsters, but you can recover.

After picking up some water at a convenience store I headed back toward Cedars on Sunset. My escort clams had mostly dropped off, but three of them, the two with signs and one other, picked me up again as I left the store. The one without a sign made an attempt to grab my Xemu flyers within the first block, but failed because I had a good grip on them, in spite of also holding a water bottle. I stopped to rearrange things with my back to a wall.

It was an interesting tableau. If two of them had not been carrying the big SP signs you would have assumed a mugging was in progress. At that point a street person came along and rescued me by being a witness. He let me walk next to his shopping basket keeping the clams away from the hand holding the Xemu flyers. While he did not want to get involved in the picket, he had a definite and low opinion of scientology.

Photo 18 is a view east along Sunset from about the location where my car was parked. Photo 19 is closer to the east corner of the block. Lisa can be seen over one of the escort signs. Photo 20 is looking at the north end of the Cedars building from the Sunset side of the parking lot.

It was getting close to 11:30 by the time I got back from the water run. Elliot Abelson arrived, you can see how he is decked out in one of the photos, and he wanted to know how long I would be there. He admitted that my being out there was making him rich since he was billing RTC by the hour, but he had other things he wanted to do on a Saturday.

The clams changed the escort method, using Auditor day posters instead of the more confusing SP signs, which people could mistake for them being on my side (and Lisa did at first). You can see one next to Elliot Abelson in photo 21. They later added balloons, which you can see in photo 23 (which must have been taken by Lisa) to try to screen my sign from being seen. This too may have implication for the Clearwater picket. Photo 21 is another picture of the big banner blocking the door. There is a good view of the "chaplain" on the left side of photo 24 if someone wants to put a name on him.

Photo 24 must have been taken close to my last pass north on LRH way. On the last pass, heading for my car, one of the clams (whom Lisa identifies as an Australian) came up behind me and grabbed maybe a hundred copies of the Xemu flyer, and sprinted for the main Cedars entrance. I chased him a short distance, but running with a sign isn't very efficient.

Elliot was embarrassed about his client's behavior and felt obliged to apologize, but he didn't offer to recover the flyers stolen from me. (I should have asked.) I wonder what the obligations are of a lawyer who observes misdemeanor or possibly felony acts in public by someone working for his client?

I made it known to Elliot that they had raised the ante in the whole world wide battle, and that people would now feel much less restrained in what they did to CoS, especially if it involved flyers and spray paint. Elliot looked very unhappy, but he did not say anything.

It was time to leave. My appointment with the Sighting folks was in the early afternoon. Ableson and about six of the clams walked with me back to my car. There were more than a few hot words exchanged about the behavior of the clams, spraying my sign, stealing Xemu flyers, attempting to get me to walk on Cedars property by suggesting we cut through the parking lot, and attempting to frame me for stealing by offering me one of the auditor day posters. I tossed my sign in the back of my car and departed.

I turned right onto LRH Way and went around Cedars. When I got back to Sunset, I noticed that most of the clams had headed inside but the chaplain and Lisa were still out there talking to two female bike cops.

While Lisa was there to counter the lies I was sure the chaplain was telling the cops about me I was not about to leave under circumstances where it would look as if I were the party running away. So, instead of a left, I made a right, and parked a little beyond where I had started and walked back. You can see the cops in photos 25 and 26. Photo 26 was the last on the roll.

I gave one of the cops a Xemu leaflet, told her about a stack being stolen from me, and got the other one to take my name so there will be a record to cite next time someone pickets Cedars. The cops asked me to stay till they could get a supervisor to come by. More scientologists wandered across the parking lot to get involved. Elliot came back, looking unhappy. He wanted his Saturday. The cops really didn't want to get involved, but there are rules if someone takes a photo of them. The supervisor drove up, inquired if I have any problems with his officers. I assured him I do not. It was getting beyond the time I wanted to leave for the Sightings taping.

I went around Cedars again. Rather than go up the west side of Cedars I went an extra block to the west and made a left turn on Sunset at a light. I stopped at the first place which looks like I could get some more water (a service station) and two PI cars, a white one and a gray/green one pulled in behind me. They parked next to each other. Damn! I am out of film. I went back and knocked on the windows to show them I know who they are, got back in my car, made a U turn on Sunset and headed back to Cedars.

Elliot was still there talking to the cops. I stopped and bitched to him and the cops about the PIs, I told him I am through with scientology for the day and going somewhere the PIs are not likely to be welcome. Will he call them off? Or do I have to ditch this batch like the last one? Elliot was embarrassed again, says they hire the best lawyers (Ha!) <fweet> but the PIs they hire leave something to be desired--I was not supposed to even be aware of them. They are just assigned to follow me till I leave the area, but he won't say what the "area" is.

I told Elliot and the cops that I have lost scientology's PIs before and can do it again. I also mention the Scarff deposition where Scarff reports being told in Moxon's office to run Cynthia Kissner off the road and kill her. Elliot says he is sure that did not happen in Moxon's office. I didn't say it, but Scarff leaves something to be desired in reliability.

The cops were not particularly sympathetic. Being followed by PIs or worse comes with the territory if I am going to picket this particular cult. Elliot insists they must keep track of me till I leave the area because I am considered to be dangerous to them. It seems that I am at cause over Miscavige again.

So. The cult has to keep track of little ol' dangerous me if I am in the area. I can work with this, can they?

I laid out how I am going to deal with this to Elliot. I will find a phone, call and see if the UFO people (Sightings, I did not tell them who was taping my UFO launches) can put up with two cars full of scientologists and private investigators. If they can't, I will come back and picket Cedars all afternoon. Elliot is not happy, but the fees he will collect for staying there all afternoon soften the blow some. (Or perhaps he worries I will buzz Cedars with a UFO pulling a big Xemu banner if I go off to fly UFOs.)

I took off, around Cedars again with two PIs cars in tow looking for a place to make a call and get more water and another camera.

(If you want to follow the next part in detail pull up a map of east Hollywood on the net. Try sticking 5500 W Harold Way, Los Angeles, CA 90028 in the Yahoo map function.)

On Sunset at Western, a few block west of Cedars, I found myself stopped for a light next to an LA cop car. Remembering that you should always exploit an unexpected opportunity when being tailed, I hook a thumb back at the white car behind me and tell the two cops that I think guys in the car tailing me are private investigators, but they might be scientologists goons. The cops are interested. The light changes, they drop back and get behind the white car. I turn right at the next street onto St Andrews, the white car turns, the cops turn, and the blinking lights go on. The white car pulled over. The green/gray car is half a block back, but I know they will pass the cops and the white PI car at high speed when they catch up and be on my tail again.

I made the next right on Harold Way, and zipped back to Western. Luck was with me, no traffic. I made a dogleg turn, left, then right into Carlton Way. Half a block down Carlton, there is a place on the left where a house was ripped out, making a driveway into a big construction site (photo 27). (I was still out of film. The photos of the getaway route were made by mysterious means.)

I pulled in, and parked out of sight behind the wall you can see to the left of the utility pole. No cars come by, but I reflect that they might have seen me pull in. Even though it is Saturday, the gate left of the trailer in photo 28 into the main construction area was open, and inside offers better concealment. I drove through and stopped completely out of sight from Carlton.

Well! I seemed to have gotten clean away. There was a gate opening onto the next street, Hollywood, a major route parallel to Sunset. Out that gate and they will never see me again. You can get a long view of the gate in photo 29 and a look through the gate onto Hollywood in photo 30.

A construction worker who was changing out one of those multi gallon soda pop canisters can open it for me. Not only was there a way out, but there was a pay phone (photo 31) right next to where I was parked.

I rooted around a bit and located the directions out to the UFO shooting site and gave them a call. One of the people I am looking for was already out there. I asked if the scientologists and PIs can tag along to the UFO taping.

The producer said for me to bring them along, she will see if they can work them in. Scientology is, after all, a UFO cult, might fit right in.

Now I have to find the lost PIs. I don't need the other gate opened, thanks! I figured the best way to find the PIs is just to go back to Cedars and have Elliot call them. I headed back toward Cedars, making a right turn on Serano Ave.--and here they come. I bet they were happy to find me and will be less than happy to find out I was looking for them.

I pulled over and stopped near Sunset, walked back and rapped on the window. The older PI driving (obviously a long retired cop) calmly rolled down the window. The clam next to him (Purple tie from the picket) gibbered at me about how siccing the cops on them did not work (heh). I told them I called and it is ok for them to come to the UFO shoot, noticed they have a cell phone and asked them to call Elliot and let him know I will not be back today. Do they want directions? At this Purple Tie nearly goes nuts, screaming "Get out of here!" but the calm and sensible PI who wants the directions prevails.

So I went back to my car, got the directions and let him copy down the route to the UFO shoot. Purple Tie was agitated, but kept quiet. I wondered whether he calmed down enough to call Elliot so he could go home. Would it have been the RPF for him if I had given them the slip? While the PI is writing down the directions, I am looking at a document on the front seat about me coming to town and what to do when this calamity comes to pass. I can't tell exactly how many pages, 5-10 would be my guess. My fingers thetans were itching to grab it, but even though they ripped paper from me I let it pass. Maybe I will ask for it in the next lawsuit.

A few blocks away I stopped to pick up some more water and another camera. Then it was off to the UFO shoot, a two hour drive out Hollywood, 101, 405, 14, and Pear Blossom Highway. I only took one picture of the white car, and that through the rear view mirror. (photo 32)

Only one interesting incident on the way out. A really large green plastic box had fallen off a truck. I swerved around it, the white car behind me made a violent swerve to get around it. Since I was not actually in much of a hurry, I turned around, went back, and shoved the box off the road. It was fairly heavy. I opened it up and found it to be packed with clothing. There was a car registration or similar owner identifying slip of paper near the top. The tailing cars had come back with me and were parked across the roadway. I was wondering what if anything I should do with this box when a sheriff patrol car pulled up. The sheriff deputy wondered what all the cars were doing, especially since the gray/green one pulled out in a hurry, back toward LA. I guess they did this so that if I got the sheriff to detain the white car they would still have someone free to tail me.

I told the deputy I had just stopped to shove the big green box off the road, and that this slip of paper might lead to who it belonged to and that 1) I was going out to conduct a UFO launch for a TV show, so watch for one after sunset, and 2) the car across the road plus the one which just tore off were PIs working for the scientology UFO cult who were following me out to the UFO launch. The deputy was quite amused, and appreciative I had moved the box off the roadway before someone hit it. About this time the owner of the box came back, so the problem of what to do with it was solved.

Now that I think about it, the PI was the only one showing in the car. I wonder what happened to Purple Tie. Had he bailed out in LA, or was he huddled down on the floor biting the carpet?

A few miles further down the road was the house where I met the Sightings video crew. It was on a private road, so the PIs parked where they could watch the road in. The crew had an interview with some well known UFO dude who had driven out from the midwest. They set up on the bank of the nearby California Aqueduct to create an interesting backdrop for the interview. (Photo 33) After an hour or two of talking to the owner of the place and some of his friends who had come over to watch, and filling up/launching a test balloon to see how bad the wind was, I went looking for the clams and PIs. No luck, they had split. I guess that being in a UFO TV tabloid was not part of their game plan.

The TV taping crew broke down the setup on the aqueduct and started looking for a good place to tape an interview with me and the UFO launch. They found what I consider to be a rather sub optimal place because of too much wind on the top of a hill. Photos 34, 35, 36, and 37 are from that site. After a bit of an interview (which was mostly about nanotech and cryonics rather than UFOs) they taped me building a UFO (stapling up crepe paper) on the back of a car, and filling a gas bag.

Of course, I thought of the perfect answer to the question they asked of "Why do you do this?" about a day later. If nobody did UFO hoaxes, they wouldn't have any material for their show! We were hoping the wind would die down after sunset, but there was way too much wind on the top of the hill to launch. But by going down the hill a ways, we were able to find a low wind pocket. There I lit up the candles in the crepe paper bag and let it go into a sky which was nearly indigo in color with a few stars starting to show. I was too busy to get photos of the launch or the glowing ball in the sky, but the Sightings tape of my creation should air sometime in January.

The crew broke the equipment down and we went back to the host's house. The director and camera guy were really happy with what they got, and had another shoot early the next day, so they and the sound guy of them left rather than stick around. They missed a delicious steak dinner, with all the trimmings, including interesting tales around the table. I am far from the only person with a number of wild stories.

After dinner I had enough materials for two more lights and there was a lot of helium left in the tank. So we made a giant two light version which you can see in photos 38 and 39. We had a fair amount of problems with it, but we got it launched about 10 pm, giving the locals two UFOs "sightings" in one evening.

I looked for them on the way out, but no PIs showed up on my radar screen. I suppose they figured I would go back to San Jose that night.

[Fade to Black]

Three days later in the early afternoon on I was in Hemet (photo 40). The state highway department is working on a new bridge over the San Jacinto river and the route through Gold Base has been detoured (Photo 41) but is still open. The place still looked like a Nazi theme park. The clams were reroofing some of the buildings in anticipation of heavy rains this winter. (Photo 42). Some progress has been made on the big complex on the west end of Gold Base, but no workers were in sight. (Photo 43) Sadly I just don't have time to picket today.

DISCONTINUITY

Late afternoon, back at Cedars, I turn down LRH Way, stop nearly in front and give the place a once over. Few clams in evidence. Bike security guard ignores me as he passes in front of my car. (Photo 44) Is this a clam? I follow. Yep, he turns in. (Photo 45) I park and walk back. "Yo dude, you missed me!" I call. He and a guy in a white shirt look at me but decide to ignore me. I take a picture of the Sea Org entrance. (Photo 46) Dilemma! Should I get out my painted up sign and make it obvious that I have returned? Or should I let Miscavige, Rinder, and Ableson find out from the net that a "dangerous" SP was completely ignored by their "security?"

Its late, I'm tired. RPF the lot of them, I'm going home.

--H. Keith Henson

P.S. Thanks to Lisa Derrick. Solo picketing has a few drawbacks, among them nobody to take pictures.

And thanks to Shelley Thomson for editing this. What you see is a major improvement over the first draft. Picketing doesn't take all that much time. Writing up and editing what happened is the big time sink.

I happened to have called [redacted] on another subject just after he got a call from Agent [redacted]. Not wanting the FBI to be uninformed about the pervasively criminal cult behind this, I offered to come in and supply them some background. Agent [redacted] took me up on this, so I went in for a visit yesterday a little after 3 pm.

Interviews in FBI offices are interesting. The interview rooms are off the bullet proof lobby. (I have been in three of these places by now, including the FBI Clearwater office where I reported to the head of the office that a company with strong ties to the cult they once raided occupied the next floor up--generating a serious level of concern since all it would take to listen to the conversations in the FBI office was to put your ear to a floor penetration.) There is an obvious TV camera focused on you. A copy of the tape (if they made one) would be an interesting item since [redacted] stated to me that [redacted] had posted the list which started the thread on those phone numbers--a "fact" I have been unable to verify on DejaNews.

b6
b7C

I said I thought that was very unlikely, but that if it was the case, I bet the phone numbers were all from public sources. I did not follow the thread closely, but what I remembered of it was that all the numbers posted turned out to be public. No, [redacted] said, they could prove that the numbers came from [redacted] and all they wanted to do was to verify that [redacted] would knock it off (specifically not post more of the cult's phone numbers) and they would report that the case was closed to Judge Infante. I told Agent [redacted] that I would let [redacted] know why they wanted to talk to him, and that while I could not imagine [redacted] violating an order, it seemed really unlikely that he would be posting material held under seal in the future (or past for that matter).

b6
b7C

We also had a rather lengthy conversation including mention of a former neighbor of mine who just retired as an agent, and the criminal activities of the scientology cult and the companies associated with it, such as TradeNet and their "laundry balls." I left Agent [redacted] with some information on the cult vs the net, (some of the fun stuff, like the car chases by the PIs), and a few URLs.

The cult is enlisting the judicial and law enforcement agencies on their side against citizen's who are standing up to the RICO cult. I think it is essential that this attempt backfire.

Interesting.

[redacted] once upon a time told a.r.s what numbers the cult wanted to know were on his phone records. The clams filed an OSC and there was a hearing about this.

Apparently, under Infante's Orders [redacted] couldn't even tell the people whose numbers were subject to the search of his phone records about the search, as it was under seal to protect HIS privacy.

If this is what they are dealing with, Infante might be interested to know that Whyte ALREADY dealt with the matter, and that the motion to Infante is improper.

Additionally, Once upon a time [REDACTED] successfully subpoena'd RTC's phone records, prompting a threatening call from [REDACTED] and resulting in the discovery that someone at RTC has placed the subpoena request in with the phone bill. He gave them back, or at least to a local magistrate, the next day (IIRC)

[REDACTED] he of Clambake fame. posted a list of numbers from an unknown source that a number of people followed up on. These might be the alleged secret RTC numbers.

IOW... [REDACTED] subpoena's the Cult's phone records; [REDACTED] posts a DIFFERENT SET of phone records; [REDACTED] posts some other phone records, THEREFORE (in cult logic) [REDACTED] posted the subpoena'd phone records.

This is on par with the logic that [REDACTED] is Scamizdat.

Wonder if the agent cares. I kinda doubt it. He's been told what to do by a federal Magistrate.

Isn't lying to a federal agent a criminal offence?

Re: Scientology & [redacted]

Dear Agent [redacted]

I read a posting by [redacted] re phone numbers posted to the newsgroup alt.religion.scientology.

In RTC vs [redacted] they told Judge Brinkema that I was "in possession of stolen property" - nowhere in 5" of ex-parte filings did they mention that what I had posted to the Internet was at that time, infact, an unsealed pubic court record in the central district of California.

I have suspected that just the prior to instigation of thier raid upon my home they were in fact responsible for posting copyright stuff to the net that ended up in a .log file - from leaving "logging function on" while browsing various newsgroups - I never was fined a penny for posting of the public court record to the net, they ran me out of money to litigate, and I was unwilling to pursue the case to the appellate level due to the stress and my own poor health.

I was decieved by Scientology when I was a teenager, and spent 10 years as a virtual slave in their "sea Organization". I know how they think. If they can get away with it - then it is legal. What I wonder about is what about that report of a bomb threat to an airline that was introduced in either [redacted] case or [redacted] case [i forgot which] [both in Judge Whyte's Court]- which was obvious to me as being another put up job by these masters of deceit.

I am not proud to state that I was once one of them.

I am proud to state that I am willing to use that knowlege to try to save as many folks the unfortuate ~~ex~~perience called $cientology.

Received 3/16/98

see <http://www.manet.com> for more on the cult of power and greed

For some, the process has also been dangerous. Earlier this month, German police searched five Munich locations of the sect after the suspicious death of a cult member. In Clearwater, Florida, a young woman mysteriously died after being held at a Scientology hotel. Maybe Mr. Clinton could send down Janet Reno for an investigative weekend in her old neighborhood.

But back to Mr. Berger, who found Presidential whim expanding his duties to include stilling an actor's pain. Asked by "Meet the Press" about his briefing of Mr. Travolta last September, the National Security Adviser looked like he might eat his tie as he downplayed the meeting as a normal response to reports of religious persecution by the German government. His real goal, he said, was to get an autograph for one of his kids; we note he didn't ask for educational materials.

Mr. Berger is not the only official caught up in Scientology's web. Senator Alfonse D'Amato, about whom no movie we know of is being made, has scolded Germany at a hearing organized by the Commission on Security and Cooperation in Europe. And by the time the House finally defeated a resolution criticizing Germany late last year, a flabbergasted Madeleine Albright had already endured several ludicrous discussions with Germany's equally flabbergasted foreign minister, Klaus Kinkel. A federal immigration judge added to the surreal merriment by granting asylum in November to a preposterous German woman who feared returning home because she is a Scientologist.

But if that is all weird, it is nothing compared with the mysteries surrounding the decision of the IRS to suddenly grant Scientology a tax-exempt status after years of litigation. Our Elizabeth MacDonald reported that in the secret settlement the IRS dropped its position that "auditing" fees were not deductible, a position that had been upheld by the U.S. Supreme Court. In return it got $12.5 million and a promise that the cult would drop its numerous lawsuits against the IRS and its agents. The IRS says it is investigating the leak.

Meanwhile, Scientology is litigating with everyone else in sight; why not, after having intimidated the biggest gun on the block? The IRS has lately announced its desire to turn itself into a friendly agency. How about an auditing session? Leading off with this question: Is there anyone at the IRS who seriously thinks that the unbelievable sums of money Scientology spends on lawsuits meet the agency's requirement that a charity spend its funds only on charitable purposes?

The Wall Street Journal

Review & Outlook 24 February 1998

The Secrets of the Universe

There's no particular reason for the world to worry about a smallish cult that believes invisible 75 million-year-old thetans are floating around our skulls. The search for the meaning of life in the vastness of the universe preoccupies most people at some time or another, though they usually find their way into houses of worship, therapeutic counseling or the local liquor store.

When instead they come calling on the National Security Adviser, it may be time for a reality check. Some of the weirdest conversations of the day concern Sandy Berger's meeting with John Travolta, along with Tom Cruise the chief ornaments of the Scientology movement. Scientology's founder, L. Ron Hubbard, professed to believe the evil galactic overlord Xenu shipped frozen thetans to Teegeack, better known as planet Earth, dropping them down volcanoes and pulverizing them with hydrogen bombs and setting their souls adrift. By now it seems you can't understand the universe without plumbing thetan influence in the White House, the halls of Congress, and the murky heart of the IRS.

Mr. Travolta brought the cult to our attention again thanks to an article in George magazine describing how the actor and the President of the United States enjoyed an apparently mutually beneficial meeting last spring at a volunteerism conference in Philadelphia. The actor was there to deliver a speech about Scientology's educational materials. What concerned the President, Mr. Travolta suggests, was the big screen filling up with Jack Stanton, the Clintonesque President in "Primary Colors"--the movie Mr.

Travolta was just then making, having eaten himself into a properly presidential profile. It's probably unlikely that a film directed by Mike Nichols would ever treat Stanton/Clinton as anything but a charming rogue and shrewd manipulator. But the prospect of a wide screen valentine became ever more probable as Mr. Clinton took the moment to feel Mr.

Travolta's pain. And told him he would try to make it go away.

Who is hurting Mr. Travolta? The German government, that's who. Like the U.S. prior to a 1993 tax settlement mysteriously upgrading the cult to the status of a tax-exempt religion, Germany considers Scientology a business run by extremists and has put the church under surveillance.

Assisted by frightened escapees, the Germans make the case that Scientology exploits the weaknesses of its members for profit that at the very least should be taxed. This creates the worst kind of pain for Scientology, which reaps millions from "auditing," cleaning a "preclear" of repressed memories. With millions of years of memories, getting cleared and achieving ever higher levels of purity can be a lengthy and costly experience. It also yields intensely private information that is carefully stored in files.

As seen on Public Eye - Lisa McPherson

In 17 days, Lisa McPherson, lost 45 lb. while held in isolation in Scientology's facility in Clearwater Florida, and then died. She had previously expressed a desire to leave Scientology and go back to her family. This case has been featured on Extra, Public Eye, Court TV, front page of the New York Times and many others. This story is the most disturbing story of recent date that we have found out about. Both the Clearwater Police Dept. and the Florida State Police have recommended that CRIMINAL charges be filed. Ken Dandar represents her family in a wrongful death lawsuit. Below is a picture of her hand, showing that she was pounding the walls trying to escape. She was 5' 9" and weighed 109 pounds when she died. Scientology had the body cremated - IMO to hide the evidence.

Lisa was reportedly pounding on walls, shouting, - she was given, a.k.a. "Mickey Finn" - Chloral Hydrate - repeatedly, to knock her out, and make her sleep... by an organization that says it is against drugs?

Harassment of Investment Banker Robert Minton, Beacon Hill Boston.

Mr. Minton provided financial assistance to Ken Dandar to support litigation efforts in the McPherson wrongful death lawsuit. He has also provided assistance to ex-members and litigants so that they might survive Scientology's baratrous litigation tactics. He also has provided considerable help to me - and now he himself, his family, his relatives are being harassed.-----he says they even followed his 10 & 12 year old daughters ..(this is a "church"?)

Sunday, June 1st Odhran went to his new job at a hotel as normal, later he told his workmates he was going on a break, and would be back in a few minutes. He never returned. He was taken out of Ireland by night, by boat, by the Scientologists. - the rest of this story is available on the website, the picture is of a 1500 man demonstration to seek the release of this Irishman.

He had lost so much weight that his brother didn't recognize him at the airport and for some reason Ohdran did not know his brother anymore either, and they walked past each other..... when they finally found each other, and went home, his mother broke into tears when she saw his bones protruding, he seemed in a trance, - this was not the strapping young man they remiembered. Over next 5 months he got a job, and began to gain weight, and enjoy life, family and friends - then some Scientologists began snooping around, making false allegations to the police, hanging around....Then on IRS/Scientology AGREEMENT REVEALED or is fraud legal in America??

Near the end of 1997, this 51 page document was provided to the Wall Street Journal and was placed on the net. A complete copy of this document which is what Scientology uses to claim itself a Religion is on the site. While all the legal niceties have yet to be determined, apparently Scientology has agreed to enforce IRS regulations upon its own members, and must eject any member who doesn't agree or follow IRS regulations. Further, Scientology schools are tax free - wouldn't other REAL churches like this? Salt Lake Tribune headline said: Scientology paid 12.5 million for tax exempt status! - an estimated 1% of a potential tax liability of over 1 billion dollars - that's money out of the pocket of each person in the United States of America - where the mere existence of something called Scientology with IRS sanctioned 'charitable status' proves that fraud is legal in America.

The RAIDS conducted by SCIENTOLOGISTS on Citizens homes

To the right Warren McShane, Scientologist, president of "Religious Technology Corporation" [Scientology] is about to enter my bedroom to search....

On first Saturday in August at 9:30 AM 1995 my home was raided and searched, my computer was and all my disk records were taken to one of the cult's lawfirms. I had Earl Cooley, one of their lawyers, on the board of Boston University, sitting on my couch for a while. Two US Marshals, one stood in the hallway, another sat with his hands behind his head on my couch while members of this cult called Scientology searched my home from top to bottom after telling USDJ Brinkema that I was "in possession of stolen property" - NEVER did they mention, in 5" of filings that what I had was an unsealed public court record from the Central District of California - that had 61 pages as an exhibit that happened to be considered their BIG SECRET - which was the secret story of Xenu and the routines for excorsing 'Body thetans' - evil spirits - The raid was later was VACATED, [annulled] however not having even ones phone book makes it very difficult to defend oneself... They sued for Trade secret missappropriation and copyright infringement- we won all the 'tradesecret charges (11)- and I was fined the the minimum $500 for each of 5 non willful copyright counts, 2 of which were Windows .tmp files, 3 were from having my logging function on (a .log) file, onto my home computer, I made while reading the scientology newsgroup on the net called alt.religion.scientology, For this they spent 1.7 million trying to bankrupt me with litigation - and I was fined $2,500 and will shortly have to pay 'court costs' - for deposition.copies, hearing transcripts and the like. All this lawsuit was about was the supression of information....All I had been engaged in was the placing of unsealed public court records onto the internet, much like nailing a poster to a Liberty Tree in the 1760's - in order to protect the public from fraud. Scientology was awarded ZERO attorney fees. No damages. Previous raids, include Dennis Erlich, and: the next week they raided the home office of Larry Wollersheim in Boulder Colorado, and Bob Penny then a director for FACTNet - Fight Against Coercive tactics network - to make it impossible for us to defend ourselves, to prevent us from telling you the truth. Last year they offered the three of us 12 million dollars to go away and be silent - We said no. We chose to continue to do everything in our power to try to inform the public about their true nature.. The Litigation against FACTNet, Larry Wollersheim and Bob Penny, as well as Dennis Erlich, Grady Ward and Keith Henson continues. Anyone with the financial resources, or litigation experience to assist in any way please call 703-241-1498. I will direct you to those with the most urgent needs. Sincerely, Arnie Lerma - Ex-Staff member for 10 years of this cult - and my sincere thanks to Robert Minton - without whom I would not be here..and thats one reason Scientology is after him - to silence me and keep me from telling you the truth about what some European countries consider a threat to democracy...

The GULAGS of SCIENTOLOGY

"BRAINWASHING IN SCIENTOLOGY's REHABILITATION PROJECT FORCE (RPF)"

by Stephen A. Kent, Ph.D. Professor--Department of Sociology University of Alberta
Edmonton, Alberta CANADA T6G 2H4 phone--(403)492-2204

Excerpts picked by Ex-Member Arnie Lerma:

"Other escape stories indicate that RPF victims were, essentially, imprisoned in situations where they had not given consent (much less informed consent) for their captors to hold them. Vicki Azanaran, for example, "and two other victims escaped from Happy Valley onto the Sobo[b]a Indian Reservation where they were pursued on motorcycles by guards of Happy Valley. Vicki and the other victims were rescued by residents of the reservation who picked them up in a pick-up truck and spirited them to a motel in the City of Hemet" (Aznaran and Aznaran, 1988: 12)."

Tonya Burden swore, "under pains and penalties of perjury" (Burden, 1980: 12) that she "personally observed a person chained to pipes in the boiler room in the Fort Harrison building for a period of weeks" (Burden, 1980: 10).

"Former member Pat escaped by using several elaborate ruses.

First, she concocted a story that convinced guards to allow her to use the telephone. Then she called a non-Scientology friend and gave explicit instructions about where her friend should be the next night (Kent Interview with Pat, 1997b: 3). The next night, she concocted a second story that managed to get her near to the street where her friend was waiting. Manipulating the guard who was with her, Pat managed to get enough distance from him so that she got inside the car: slammed the door shut and said, 'Go!' [My friend] hit the door locks and stepped on the gas....

It was an awful, awful time, and there I was in this car not knowing where I was going, forty cents in my purse.... But I couldn't be there anymore; I couldn't be there another minute.

I couldn't handle another second of the degradation"

(Kent Interview with Pat, 1997b: 4).

Please call Arnie Lerma 703 241 1498 if you'd like a live interview or a referral to a truth loving enthusiast in your area, and print out copies from the website and send them to your congressmen, urge others to do so and ask "Is this America?" <http://www.lermanet.com>

Psssst.... Hey buddy, wanna buy a bridge?

Experience the transitory delusion of $cientology auditing "technology".

- * Make your conscience disappear!
- * Have all your secrets recorded in case we need them...
- * Lose all touch with reality, and become lost in the endless world of Hubbardian Cosmology!
- * Discover that you are infested with spirits of dead space aliens!
- * Spend years removing them!
- * Sell everything you own, because you will become convinced that the "next" secret level will make it all make sense...
- * Have your sense of humanity expertly removed by our 'standard tech-trained' brainwashers.
- * Lose all inhibitions for evil or despicable conduct - as you will shortly feel that any act is justifiable in the name of "Ron".

And rest easy, with the calm self assurance that your "donations" are supporting a platoon of lawyersneeded to ensure that the FRAUD of $cientology continues...

They claim to have spent 1.7 million, in RTC vs. Lerma, and offered a large pile of money for a settlement of various cases with a gag order but I'm still talking

26 million a year for lawyers, rice and beans for staff = SCAM

Secrets are the mortar binding lies as bricks together into prisons for the mind

The Internet is the Liberty tree of the 90's

I'd prefer to die speaking my mind than live fearing to speak

The only thing that really works in $cientology are it's lawyers

What Judges say about Scientology - (its hard to get sued for quoting Judicial Opinion) - (even about a hypnotist-sci-fi-writer-turned-con-man named Hubbard) - makes a great Public Service Announcement

"The government is satisfied that Scientology is socially harmful. It alienates members of families from each other and attributes squalid and disgraceful motives to all who oppose it; its authoritarian principles and practice are a potential menace to the personality and well being of those so deluded as to become followers". --Kenneth Robinson, British Minister of Health

"Scientology is evil; its techniques are evil; its practice is a serious threat to the community, medically, morally, and socially; and its adherents are sadly deluded and often mentally ill... (Scientology is) the world's largest organization of unqualified persons engaged in the practice of dangerous techniques which masquerade as mental therapy." --Justice Anderson, Supreme Court of Victoria, Australia

"Scientology is both immoral and socially obnoxious...It is corrupt sinister and dangerous. It is corrupt because it is based on lies and deceit and has its real objective money and power for Mr. Hubbard... It is sinister because it indulges in infamous practices both to its adherents who do not toe the line unquestionably and to those who criticize it or oppose it. It is dangerous because it is out to capture people and to indoctrinate and brainwash them so they become the unquestioning captives and tools of the cult, withdrawn from ordinary thought, living, and relationships with others."--Justice Latey, ruling in the High Court of London

"[The court record is] replete with evidence [that Scientology] is nothing in reality but a vast enterprise to extract the maximum amount of money from its adepts by pseudo scientific theories... and to exercise a kind of blackmail against persons who do not wish to continue with their sect.... The organization clearly is schizophrenic and paranoid, and this bizarre combination seems to be a reflection of its founder, L.Ron Hubbard." --Judge Breckenridge, Los Angeles Superior Court

"In addition to violating and abusing its own members' civil rights, the organization over the years with its 'fair game' doctrine has harassed and abused those persons not in the church whom it perceives as enemies." -Los Angeles Superior Court Judge Paul Breckenridge, June 1984, in the Gerry Armstrong case

"When a person is subjected to coercive persuasion [as in Scientology] without his knowledge or consent ...[he may] develop serious and sometimes irreversible physical and psychiatric disorders, up to and including schizophrenia, self-mutilation, and suicide." --California Supreme Court, United States v. Lee [455 U.S. 252,257,258 (1982)*]

"Scientists believe that most human problems can be traced to lingering spirits of an extraterrestrial people massacred by their ruler, Xenu, over 75 million years ago. These spirits attach themselves by "clusters" to individuals in the contemporary world, causing spiritual harm and negatively influencing the lives of their hosts " [p2, lines 11-16] USDJ Judge Leonie Brinkema 4 Oct 96 Memorandum Opinion, RTC vs Lerma [RTC even tried to seal Judge Brinkema's Opinion - but it's just another chapter in 'Scientology's constant effort to destroy, shred and suppress information]

In Spain, prosecutor demanded 30 years for Heber Jentszch, President of the International Association of Scientists, IAS, 1995 and who is out on 1 million dollars bail for among other things, inducement to suicide- the fellow who appeared ranting about psychiatrists on Public Eye a few months ago

"...capable of such danger that the public interest demands that people should know what is going on" LORD DENNING

"It is an organization with medical, social and ethical practices that are dangerous and harmful," Judge Constandia Angelaki wrote in her [12/96] ruling [Greece]"It claims to act freely so as to draw members who subsequently undergo ... brainwashing by dictated ways of thinking that limit reaction capabilities."

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

I strongly feel that it is my civic duty to bring to the attention of the competent authorities of the United States and other concerned countries a matter of severe abuses and destructive activities by the "Church" of Scientology. I am at their disposition for more information on all of this.

I was shocked at the use of top celebrities by Scientology to try and give an impression of it which, per my own experiences, is a false impression. When I compare the ridiculous charges made by Scientology against the German government with what I know Scientology has been doing itself I find a very strong similarity indeed. I have decided to speak out about this publicly.

I was, until earlier this year, one of Scientology's "celebrities". I am a professional artist, having a 25 year career internationally with over 99% sales. I was in Scientology for 23 years, did very many courses, and reached the highest available level of "New O.T.8." My knowledge of the inner workings of Scientology is extensive. I have information about many instances of abuses of current and former Scientology members and of lies Scientology has generated about itself to give a wrong public impression.

Among the many things I can relate, here are just a few from recent times;

1. From 1991 to 1996 I was the subject of vicious machinations by several "churches" of Scientology to destroy my name and reputation, and to involve me in expensive "justice handlings" within the organization. Apart from the horrific emotional stress over five years it cost me well over $120,000 to clear my name of accusations of things I had never done in the first place! I have full documentation of all these multiple abuses.

2. In June of 1996 I was held against my will in the Scientology, Clearwater, Florida facility and "ordered" to pay $7,400 before they would let me out of the room. I did not want to pay for what the two staff members insisted I must have, and what ensued was a verbal battle, emotional trauma and an attempt at financial extortion. After a time I managed to escape the physical detention, but the two "Sea Org" members chased me right out into the streets of Clearwater to try to recapture me. I did not pay the money. This incident is on file with the Clearwater Police Department.

3. In June of 1991 I was forced to pay, despite vehement protestations, the sum of $7,400 to Scientology on the "Freewinds" ship. The ruse used on that Wednesday was that if I did not pay then they would withhold my passport from me until I did pay. They did so and I had to pay the money to get it back.

4. At the end of 1996 I was subjected to horrible kind of "religious de-programming" in the Scientology "Fort Harrison Hotel". This was done, using an "E-Meter", by a top official of the "Religious Technology Centre" (RTC) namely [redacted] I was interrogated for several hours on the most intimate personal religious beliefs (Christian) and his actions were designed, clearly, to get me to give up my Christian religious beliefs in exchange for RTC's "eligibility authorization" to read a confidential publication about a defective "OT level". I had previously completed (OT 7).

His utter contempt for my religious beliefs were all too apparent. He felt that all other religions apart from Scientology should be destroyed and probably would be in time by Scientology, by using RTC's programmes of "eligibilities" as the means of forcing people to give up other faiths. I also had to undergo many hours of "false data removal"...to try to "get me to realize" that the ONLY valid religion was Scientology. It did not work. My considered, personal opinion is that Scientology is definitely NOT A RELIGION.

These are a few of many things I can testify to.

I declare, under penalty of perjury under California laws that the above is true and correct per my own personal experiences.

The Cross¹ of the Church of Scientology¹.

THE CHURCH OF SCIENTOLOGY LIES ABOUT WHAT IT TEACHES REGARDING CHRIST.

At the beginning, public relations, levels of the Church of Scientology¹, the Church lies and tells people that they can practice their religion of choice and Scientology at the same time. In the official introductory book What is Scientology? (© 1992), the Church states:

"In Scientology there is no attempt to change a person's beliefs or to persuade him away from any religion to which he already belongs."

Id., at 544. The Church goes on to state:

"Scientology is all-denominational in that it opens its membership to people of all faiths." . . . Membership in Scientology does not mean that there is any necessity to leave your current church, synagogue, temple or mosque.

Id. The Church claims that it is compatible with other religions:

"Scientology respects all religions. Scientology does not conflict with other religions or other religious practices"

Id., at 544-45. Most importantly for Christians, the Church of Scientology lies and tells people that it respects Christian beliefs:

"Scientologists hold the Bible as a holy work and have no argument with the Christian belief that Jesus Christ was the Savior of Mankind and the Son of God."

Id., at 545.

"The man on the cross. There was no Christ"

-- L. Ron Hubbard, Class 8 Course, Lecture 10, audiotope.

IN TRUTH, SCIENTOLOGY TEACHES THAT "THERE WAS NO CHRIST."

However, in its secret scriptures, the Church of Scientology teaches that there was no Christ, and that the historical record of Christ is the result of an evil memory "implant" designed to control people.

In his secret Class 8 Auditor's (i.e., ministerial) class, L. Ron, Hubbard, Founder of the Church of Scientology, teaches his ministerial students:

"Somebody somewhere on this planet, back about 600 BC found some pieces of R6, and I don't know how they found it, either by watching madman or something. But since that time they have used it and it became what is known as Christianity. The man on the cross. There was no Christ. But the man on the cross is shown as Everyman."

See L. Ron Hubbard, Class 8 Course, Lecture 10, audiotope. In his "Heaven" bulletin of 11 May 1963, Mr. Hubbard dismissed the concerns about his disparagement of other religions:

"For a long while, some people have been cross with me for my lack of co-operation in believing in a Christian Heaven, God and Christ. I have never said I didn't disbelieve in a Big Thetan but there was certainly something very corny about Heaven et al. Now I have to apologize. There was a Heaven. Not too unlike, in cruel betrayal, the heaven of the Assassins in the 12th Century who, like everyone else, dramatized the whole track implants - if a bit more so. The symbol of the crucified Christ is very apt indeed. It's the symbol of a thetan betrayed."

Mr. Hubbard described the terrain of Heaven:

"The gates of the first series are well done, well built. An avenue of statues of saints leads up to them. The gate pillars are surmounted by marble angels. The entering grounds are very well kept, laid out like Bush Gardens in Pasadena, so often seen in the movies. Aside from the implant boxes which lie across from each other on the walk there are other noises and sounds as though the saints are defending and berating."

You can hear Mr. Hubbard speak, in his own words, about Christ at the following World Wide Web Internet sites:

This flyer is provided free of charge by KoXIC (rhymes with "toxic"). One copy free per person. Additional copies $10.00 each, cash in advance. Taking more than one copy is theft and will be prosecuted. Please feel free to copy and distribute this flyer.

Mr. Hubbard concluded:

"Further, we have our hands on an appalling bit of technology where the world is concerned. With rapidity and a Meter it can be shown that Heaven is a false dream and that the old religion was based on very painful lie, cynical betrayal."

[] Attorney-At-Law, representing the Religious Technology Center (RTC), an office of the Church of Scientology, came to the office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in San Jose, to provide information relating to the investigation of a Contempt of Court case. [] was advised of the identity of the interviewing agent. Thereafter, [] provided the following information:

b7C

[] the subject of the above mentioned Contempt of Court case, is a defendant in a federal civil lawsuit filed by the RTC, regarding copyright infringement matters. As part of that civil suit, in March 1997, [] issued a subpoena to Pacific Bell, requiring it to produce RTC's telephone records for the period January 1, 1995 - March 19, 1997. A copy of the subpoena was not served on RTC as required by the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. By the time RTC discovered the existence of the subpoena, [] already received the telephone records from Pacific Bell.

b6
b7C

When RTC learned, after the fact, that the records had already been given to [] RTC obtained an ex-parte order from Magistrate Judge Infante, ordering [] to make no use whatever of the records and to return to the court all copies of the records delivered to [] by Pacific bell. In response to that order, [] swore under penalty of perjury, that he had delivered all copies of the phone records to the court and retained no copies or notes of the information contained in the phone records. [] also swore under penalty of perjury that he had published no telephone numbers contained in the records to any public place.

b7C

On or about December 12, 1997, RTC learned that a Norwegian named [] a friend of [] had posted on the Internet twice, telephone numbers that he claimed were mainly unlisted Church of Scientology's telephone numbers. [] also challenged the "OSA", Office of Special Affairs, an office within the Church of Scientology, to determine the origin of the phone records.

b6
b7C

RTC investigated the matter and determined that the telephone numbers posted by [] contained telephone

[redacted]
[redacted] of the Church of Scientology, came to the office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) with his attorney, [redacted] to provide background information regarding the Contempt of Court investigation against [redacted]. [redacted] was advised of the identity of the interviewing agent. Thereafter, [redacted] provided the following information:

b6
b7C

[redacted] was a suspect in an FBI investigation in 1989, into the leak of Apple computer company's MacIntosh source code to people outside of Apple. In 1993 [redacted] was subpoenaed to turn over materials related to encryption programs that were sold by a company in Texas called Austin Code Works. The investigation of Austin Code Works was conducted by the United States Custom Service. In 1994 [redacted] was involved in the posting on the Internet of a National Security Administration (NSA) employee manual. [redacted] was quoted in the newspaper article as stating that he did it "to embarrass NSA".

b7C

Regarding the facts that may have some direct bearing on this contempt of court case, [redacted] has engaged in the continuing posting of obscene and scatological statements about RTC's counsel and its executives on the Internet. On many occasions, [redacted] had disregarded Magistrate Judge Infante's orders in [redacted] legal skirmishes with RTC. On several occasions, [redacted] had made threats against [redacted] of the RTC.

b6

[redacted] along with his cohorts, [redacted] and others, have been engaged in posting electronic messages on the Internet attacking the Church of Scientology. [redacted] and his cohorts also published copyrighted, unpublished works of the Church of Scientology on the Internet, for which, they were sued by the church in federal courts.

[redacted] would testify that the telephone numbers posted on the Internet by [redacted] could only come from the telephone records that [redacted] received from Pacific Bell. [redacted] had been ordered by Magistrate Judge Infante to make no use of the records and to turn over same to the Court.

Dear [REDACTED]

This letter will serve to acknowledge a conversation you had with Special Agent (SA) [REDACTED] of the San Francisco Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) office on April 22, 1998, whereby you instructed SA [REDACTED] to put forth in writing his request for an interview.

Our office is in receipt of a letter dated March 9, 1998, which was forwarded on stationary bearing your name and signature to SA [REDACTED]. In the letter, you state that you "will cooperate in every way with a Bureau investigation."

b7C

On April 21, 1998, SA [REDACTED] determined that you would be attending a pre-trial conference in relation to a federal civil lawsuit, number C-96-20207-RMW, "Religious Technology Center versus [REDACTED]" at the United States District Court for the Northern District of California, San Jose, California, Judge Ronald M. Whyte, presiding.

Based on your representations in the aforementioned letter from you to the FBI, SA [REDACTED] attended the pre-trial conference in order to speak to you in person. His intentions were to arrange for a time and place in order to conduct a routine interview.

b7C

In response to SA [REDACTED] verbal request, you informed SA [REDACTED] that you would prefer a written communication requesting an interview. In addition, you informed SA [REDACTED] that you are or will be represented by legal counsel who would also be present at an interview. As such, this letter is to request that you contact SA [REDACTED] so that arrangements can be made for an interview.

b6

Additionally, due to the fact that you made reference to legal counsel in your conversation with SA [REDACTED] please furnish to SA [REDACTED] information regarding your legal counsel.

Agent [redacted] of the San Jose, California office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation confirmed yesterday that the criminal cult of scientology asked Magistrate Judge Edward A. Infante of the Northern District of California in San Jose to "investigate" [redacted] upon their unfounded allegation that he was responsible for publishing to the Internet a secret list of telephone numbers that he had previously been ordered to keep secret. According to Special Agent [redacted] who lied to [redacted] when he said that he was "not a target," "the cult could prove that a list of telephone numbers published some months ago on the Internet were authentic" confidential cult numbers from Religious Technology Center, Inc. lawfully obtained by [redacted] by subpoena.

This ex parte application to the Judge was kept secret from [redacted] who, besides of course denying the false allegations, would have noted that he has made his own motion to Hon. Ronald M. Re: Conversation April 22, 1998 with Special Agent [REDACTED]

Dear Agent [REDACTED]

This is to summarize our conversation we had outside the Federal courthouse in San Jose on April 22, 1998 at about 4:00 p.m. in the presence of a third party, [REDACTED] esq., an attorney with Morrison & Foerster, LLP, Palo Alto, California.

You first said that you wanted to give me information and that you wanted to talk to me in your office. I asked if I were the target of an investigation, but you said that I was not. I said that I would be glad to be of assistance, but that you could give me information right there on the street rather than somewhere else. I had a six-hour drive back to Arcata, California and I needed to begin right away.

b7C

You then said that you had replaced Special Agent [REDACTED] on "the investigation" and that you wanted to ask me questions. I then pointed out the contradiction with your earlier unqualified statement that you simply wanted to give me information.

I then commented that I felt you, as [REDACTED] before you, were obviously lying to me in order to try to interrogate me without the assistance of counsel. You then said that I had already agreed with [REDACTED] to me with him in Arcata. I denied agreeing to such a request, but was only considering it.

April 24, 1998

Because of the frank dishonesty of you and Special Agent [redacted] and your attempt to "ambush" interview me outside the courthouse, I will not be meeting with you or any other Special Agent at any time concerning any allegations of the criminal cult of scientology

b6

Otherwise, if you have questions you would like me to comment on, please submit them in writing and I will consider if any response is warranted.

Good luck with your investigation and may you have a rewarding career with the Bureau. I hope that you can achieve results in your work without further cheapening the image of the Bureau, its Director and the U.S. Attorney's office by resorting to falsehoods and misrepresentations directed toward an unrepresented individual.

Very truly yours,

Re: Communications with SA [redacted] ASAIC Ashley, SSA [redacted]

Dear Mr. Ashley,

I have no idea why your agency is harassing me other than the report of [redacted] who interviewed SA [redacted] several weeks ago and informed me that a request by Chief Magistrate Judge Edward A. Infante based upon a false complaint by the criminal cult of scientology.

As I said in my letter of March 9, 1998 I will fully cooperated with any investigation of the Bureau. However I am unwilling to personally meet with representatives of your agency who have proven themselves to misrepresent themselves to me.

If in the unlikely event SA [redacted] was truthful that he just wanted to "give me information," then he can certainly put that information in writing and send it to me. And as I said in my letter to him dated April 24, 1998, any questions you would like to put to me, you can also put them in writing for my fullest consideration.

Considering the proven criminal background of the so-called Church of Scientology and the admitted law-breaking by their agents in, for example, lying to my wife's bank to obtain

Police chief condemns ex-cop's eavesdropping

Los Angeles Police Chief Daryl Gates, April 23, strongly condemned the purported actions of an LAPD officer, who allegedly authorized a fired police sergeant to conduct "electronic eavesdropping" in an investigation of the Church of Scientology.

Chief Gates, in a public announcement, said the alleged improper act of Phillip Rodriguez, a Northeast Area officer, was to sign a letter believed to have been drafted by the one-time Hollywood Sgt. Eugene M. Ingram, now a private investigator, authorizing Ingram to engage in eavesdropping.

Los Angeles Police Department spokesman Commander William Booth said the LAPD's internal affairs division has been ordered to make a thorough investigation of the incident.

Ingram was discharged effective Oct. 31, 1980, the day he was charged with some 12 counts of wrongdoing involving narcotics suspects. An LAPD board of rights found Ingram guilty of six of the counts and recommended his dismissal in January of 1981, but the discharge was effective on the date he was relieved from duty.

Meanwhile, a statement by the Scientologists places Ingram on the side of the church, in contrast to LAPD's belief that he was investigating the church.

In a written release, the church claimed that videotapes purportedly authorized by Rodriguez and made by Ingram were part of a church "sting" operation and revealed "a bizarre, multigovernment-agency ... plot designed to take over the control, property and assets" of the church.

The tapes were made of meetings in Griffith Park to document an FBI counterintelligence program against the church, the release stated.

On the subject of the letter and Rodriguez's purported involvement, Gates said, "It has come to my attention that a member of the LAPD, very foolishly, without proper authorization and contrary to the policy of this department, signed a letter to Eugene M. Ingram, believed to have been drafted by Ingram himself."

The letter purports "to authorize Ingram to engage in electronic eavesdropping," said Gates. "The letter, along with all the purported authorization, is invalid and is not a correspondence from the Los Angeles Police Department.

"The Los Angeles Police Department has not cooperated with Gene Ingram — it will be a cold day in hell when we do," Gates continued.

"I have directed an official letter to Ingram informing him that the letter signed by Officer Phillip Rodriguez dated Nov. 7, 1984 and all other letters of purported authorizations directed to him and or signed by any member of the LAPD are invalid and unauthorized," Gates said.

Police looking for church's private eye

■ Officers suspect an investigator for the Church of Scientology of impersonating a Hillsborough detective to get information.

By THOMAS C. TOBIN
Times Staff Writer

A private investigator who does work on behalf of the Church of Scientology is being sought by Tampa police in a case that features a bizarre claim about the Pasco County sheriff.

The investigator, a former Los Angeles police officer named Eugene Martin Ingram, is accused of impersonating a Hillsborough County sheriff's detective. Tampa police say Ingram was quizzing a woman about an alleged prostitution ring that he said involved Pasco County Sheriff Lee Cannon.

Police also have investigated Matt Bratschi, a reporter for the church publication Freedom magazine. Bratschi, who has not been charged, is believed by police to have accompanied Ingram on the interview.

The woman, who lives in Pasco County, contacted authorities and told them she does not know Cannon and knows nothing about a prostitution ring.

"I was a little amazed," Cannon said Friday of the church's inquiry. "The whole thing is a mystery to me."

He said he has never had any contact with the Church of Scientology, does not know the woman and is not connected to any prostitution ring. Nor is his department involved in any large-scale prostitution investigation, he said.

The woman, whose name is withheld by the Times to protect her privacy, declined to comment Friday.

Former members and critics of the church say Ingram has been seen around the country in recent years, harassing them in connection with their anti-Scientology activities, questioning their neighbors and using other intimidation tactics.

Ingram did not return messages to his Los Angeles business office Friday. Bratschi could not be reached for comment.

Ingram's Los Angeles lawyer, Elliot Abelson, said Friday that he had no information on the charge but added that it "sounds ridiculous." He said Ingram works for several law firms, some of which represent the Church of Scientology.

Ingram "is one of the best investigators I've ever seen," said Abelson, who also has represented Scientology and has known Ingram for 20 years. "He's just ordinary folk as far as I'm concerned. I don't think he has intimidated anyone who doesn't want to be intimidated."

Kurt Weiland, a top Scientology official in Los Angeles, said Ingram and Bratschi were working on two investigations for Freedom magazine last year.

One was based on a tip about sexual activities involving Pasco County officials, he said. The other, he said, was an investigation of the St. Petersburg Times. For years, the Church of Scientology has been critical of the coverage it has received from the Times.

The church's spiritual headquarters are in Clearwater.

At some point, Weiland said,

Church's secrets violated, jury says

Man's Internet postings defied copyright

BY HOWARD MINTZ
Mercury News Staff Writer

A Palo Alto engineer will pay a stiff price for thumbing his nose at the Church of Scientology by publishing its teachings on the Internet.

After less than a day of deliberations, a San Jose federal jury this week ordered Keith Henson to pay $75,000 to the Religious Technology Center, a wing of the Scientology organization, for deliberately violating copyright laws. The verdict came after a four-day trial before U.S. District Judge Ronald Whyte.

Henson, who has warned that the case could have a chilling effect on free speech on the Internet, may face further penalties for putting the church's published works online. Under federal copyright laws, Henson can be ordered to pay the technology center's legal fees and costs, which could add thousands of dollars to the judgment.

The church, which has aggressively litigated in courts around the country to keep its secret teachings off the Web, called the jury's verdict a "strong message to those who think laws and property rights are suspended on the Internet."

"The actions of people like Henson give the Internet a bad name," said Helena Kobrin, counsel for the Los Angeles-based church. "Freedom of speech does not mean freedom to break the law or to injure others."

The Religious Technology Center's lawsuit against Henson stems from his decision two years ago to publish the church's teachings on the Internet. Specifically, Henson posted excerpts from a church manual called "Notes 34," dealing with

See SCIENTOLOGY, Page 2B

Jury awards church $75,000

■ SCIENTOLOGY

Scientology's approach to medical treatments.

Henson has always maintained that he posted the material to alert the public to church positions that amounted to "medical and legal abuses."

Henson and other church critics posted transcripts of the trial on various Web sites the past week to highlight what was transpiring in Whyte's courtroom. Those postings might land Henson in further hot water with the judge: The Internet postings include a substantial portion of Henson's testimony that took place in closed session because it involved discussion of the secret church documents.

Whyte ordered the transcripts sealed, but they have wound up on the Web. Henson said the material was placed online inadvertently, and he apologized for the mistake. But church officials may seek further sanctions.

The trial, meanwhile, focused solely on the amount of damages Henson would be forced to pay. The judge previously held that Henson was liable for copyright infringement, exposing him to a maximum $100,000 penalty. In closing arguments Tuesday, Henson's lawyer asked the jury to award $500.

Despite the jury's verdict, Henson remained unapologetic Wednesday.

"It is amazing the trouble you can get into for trying to warn the public about health hazards," Henson said. "This (trial) was about saying it's proper to use copyright (laws) to prevent public discussion of criminal activity. This was just a loss of a battle in a larger war."

The Henson case is one of three copyright lawsuits the church has filed in the San Jose federal courts.

In 1996, Netcom On-line Communications Services settled out

— Helena Kobrin, counsel for the church of court with the church in a case watched closely by the high-tech community because it raised questions about whether online providers can be held responsible for what is published on the Internet.

The church is apparently close to settling a third case against an Arcata software developer, Grady Ward, who was accused of copyright violations for publishing church materials on the Web. Whyte in 1996 found that Ward had infringed on church's copyrighted materials.

On the heels of the shocking [redacted] verdict -- awarding $75,000.00 for posting two pages of something that had been posted many times before, not secretly, but in his own name, something that he didn't try to make a cent on -- [redacted] settled his lawsuit with scientology.

The terms were agreed upon in the court of District Judge Fogel and will be gone into in detail after they have been reduced to writing in the next 14 days as ordered by the Judge.

Important concepts in the settlement included no erosion of the right of [redacted] to "fair use" material and other rights associated with the First Amendment and no admission of wrong-doing by either party.

As part of the settlement, [redacted] will agree to dismiss his RICO counterclaim. Scientology will dismiss all three of their lawsuits against [redacted] in the suit alleging copyright infringement, their adversary action in [redacted] bankruptcy, and their third suit moving to withdraw the bankruptcy -- reference to district court.

b7C

While [redacted] will pay scientology money as part of the settlement, he fully agreed with the final settlement terms as composed in front of Judge Fogel and worked on by both parties and the Judge for several hours.

While neither party completely pleased by the settlement -- [redacted] for example refused to shake [redacted] offered hand after the agreement -- both sides feel more productive things can be done with their time right now than continue litigating in several courts for years to come.

b6
b7C

(For those interested in such things, District Judge Fogel was confirmed to the bench a month ago to take the place of District Judge Aguilar who left his lifetime appointment to the bench under a cloud.)

Dear

A letter was sent to you on April 23, 1998, acknowledging a conversation you had with Special Agent (SA)  of the San Francisco Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) office on April 22, 1998, whereby you instructed SA  to put forth in writing his verbal request to you for an interview.

You responded to the aforementioned request for an interview by sending to our office a letter dated May 1, 1998, wherein you state your willingness to cooperate with the FBI. As such, this letter will serve as a second, and final, written request for an interview.

In your May 1, 1998, letter to our office you make reference to SA  verbal request for an interview by stating, "he just wanted to 'give me information.'" In addition, you requested said "information" to be put forth in writing.  the "information" that SA  was referring to during his verbal request for an interview is simply a standard interview introduction whereby SA  will provide to you a verbal prologue in order to inform you as to the purpose of the interview.
